SUMMARY

Minsk Army Supply Depot and Barracks (Figure 1) is located on the southeastern edge of Minsk (53-55N 027-35E). The installation is served by a spur from the Minsk-Borisov rail line. Road service is provided by a network of urban streets. Other military installations in the vicinity include the Minsk Army Barracks Uruchye (AL-1) and associated training area (TA-1) located 11 kilometers (km) northeast, and the Minsk Army Barracks South-Southeast (AL-5) 4.4 km west.

The installation (Figures 2 and 3) covers approximately 250 acres and includes 16 administration buildings, 33 barracks, 98 storage buildings, 29 support buildings, and a secured equipment storage maintenance area with six vehicle storage maintenance buildings, and one motor park. The west central portion of this installation is secured by a double fence.

The installation is covered by TALENT photography and KEYHOLE missions between [REDACTED]. Comparative analysis reveals the same general pattern of usage between [REDACTED] with reduced track activity observed in snow-covered photography of [REDACTED]. Significant changes include one administration building added between [REDACTED] five barracks, one administration building, one secured storage building, and one vehicle storage maintenance building added between [REDACTED] and one barracks and one vehicle storage maintenance building added between [REDACTED].
